THE MAIN STREET METHODIST CHURCH HOLDING VACATION

School, Offering Unlimited
Opportunities For Boys And Girls as Students

The Main Street Methodist Church is holding a Vacation Church School. It is offering unlimited opportunities for enriching the lives of boys and girls. And a large number of them are showing their interest by regular attendance in the school. It is a group of happy teachers and pupils playing and working together. The beginners' group, under the leadership of Mrs. Andrew J. Boyles and Mrs. W. W. James are studying the subject, Our Happy World. The Primary department is under the leadership of Mary Kittrell and Rena Nelson, studying Bible Homes and Homes Today, with special reference to Japan. The junior girls have the interesting subject of Discovering God Through the Beautiful, using art as portrayal in religious pictures as their main source. The teachers of this group are Mrs. C. C. McDonald and Mrs. E. A. Seaman.

The children of any church or community are of first importance. It is a very satisfying experience to be able to discover a child's needs and to help meet these by practical and helpful training in Christian growth, as is being done through this school.

The Junior and Intermediate boys are giving of their service in building tables for use during the school and making other articles of their own choosing.

Hospital Seeking Bids For New Roof On Part of Building.

Regular monthly meeting of King's Daughters' hospital board of directors was held Monday morning at the office of the hospital and with Mrs. A. F. Fournier, president presiding.

Mrs. G. Y. Blaize served as secretary in the absence of Mr. Robert L. Camors who was away for the day on his power yacht.

Among items of business transacted was the motion asking for local contractors and builders to offer bids for the work of placing a new roof on the operating department and also on the nursery addition, both leaking to the extent that it was decided to have entirely new roofs take the place of the present ones.

In fact, the entire hospital building is in need of a new roof but the lack of funds precludes so doing.

The report of the superintendent, Mrs. C. E. Craft, shows the hospital cared for the usual large number of free patients during the month of May in addition to the few pay patients. The hospital is doing great work and is an institution of value to the community and county.

Department of Commerce reports that wholesale and retail dollar sales improved in April.

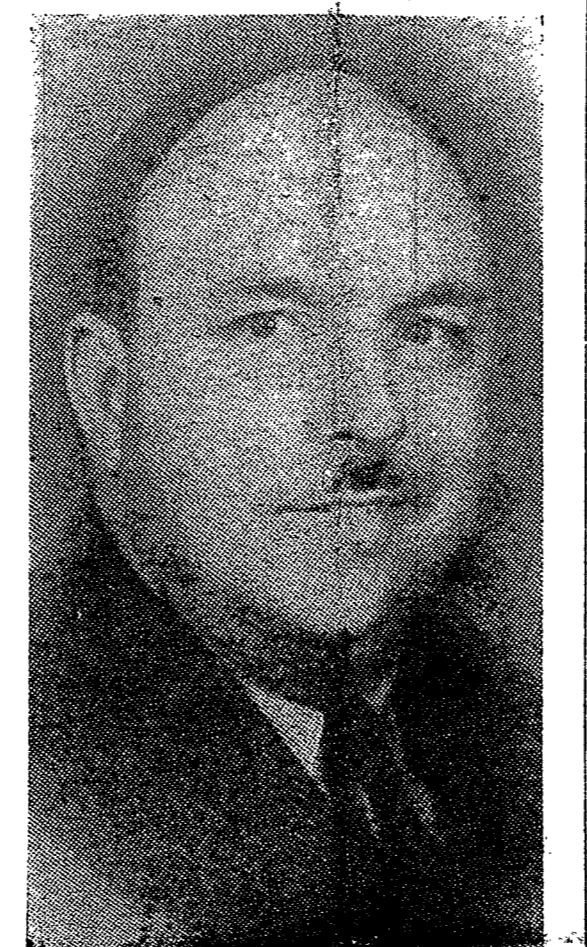

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR CLERK

Norton Haas Makes Formal
Announcement—Issues
Statement to Voters.

Norton Haas in making his formal announcement as a candidate for Clerk of Courts, issues herewith a statement to the voters of Hancock County:

TO THE VOTERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY:

I wish to express my appreciation to friends throughout the county for their confidence and interest in urging me to enter the race for Clerk of Courts. Because of my whole-hearted interest in the affairs of Hancock County, and my sincere desire to render a worthwhile service to my fellow citizens, I am announcing as a candidate for Clerk of Courts.

NORTON HAAS

I am a native and life-long resident of the county. Upon every opportunity I have backed and supported all movements which were fundamentally sound for the development of our county. I have always taken an active part in business and civic organization work; have served two terms as President of the Bay Rotary Club, Vice-Chairman of the Bay-Pass District of the Boy Scouts, Member of the Board of Directors of the Mississippi Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, and Chairman of the Mississippi Turpentine Operators Association. I feel that these contacts will be invaluable to me in serving you as Clerk.

I am opposed to the influences that dominate, and the policies that prevail in our County Government. My position in this connection is well known. I have fought for the common cause of all of the people in the past, and shall continue my effort in behalf of a fair deal. The opportunity is here now, to free our people from the clutches of a brazen dictatorial administration of County Affairs. I am now making a humble appeal to you to join this crusade for the return of the government to the people, so that it may be truly said "In Hancock County we have a government of the people, by the people and for the people."

Campaigns for Clerk in the past have been silent. I shall break this precedent. I promise to wage an active campaign, in every nook and corner of the county.

As a candidate for the office of Clerk of Courts, I make the following pledge:

1. To be an humble servant of the people.
2. To attend strictly to the duties of my office.
3. Never to attempt to guide the destiny of the Board of Supervisors.
4. Co-operation with W. P. A., and all state and government agencies, with no attempt toward dictation.
5. Not to interfere with the rights of others at any time, especially in elections.
6. To keep all public records of my office open for inspection by the public, as provided by law.
7. To render fair and equitable service to all, with favoritism to none—there shall be no "favored few."
8. To remove the door from the "private office" and hang in its stead a sign of "Welcome" to all.
9. To keep members of the Board and the people informed regularly as to the conditions and all affairs of county government.
10. To work unceasingly for the establishment of new industries in the County to provide permanent employment for the unemployed.

—NORTON HAAS

L. M. Gex Heads Committee Council.

The major work of the council for the year will be "zoning." To Ask Elimination of Toll.

Letters have been received from Governor White and the Highway Commissioners replying to the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs appealing for elimination of toll bridge at Pascagoula or to construct a new one, that the matter would be given consideration. "Inasmuch as the toll bridge at Pascagoula is a part of highway 90, it is very important to the traveling public to be relieved of paying this tax."

C. MURPHY BEAT 1, FOR SUPERVISOR

President Board of Supervisors Offers For Re-Election—Wishes to Continue Service.

Chas. B. Murphy, of Beat 1, (Logtown) is announced in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo for re-election, member Board of Supervisors, and wishes to continue his service to the people he has served well and consistently.

Mr. Murphy is president of the Board, succeeding the late Horatio S. Weston, as member and president, and the records show he has been a worthy successor to his able predecessor. With his associates of the Board he has given the people a constructive service and that in an economic manner, conserving the public interest and in no wise out of bounds of the county's finances.

On the contrary, it is pointed out by knowing ones that the Board of Supervisors has kept abreast with public improvements and at the same time getting its share of federal aid. This is best attested to by a casual survey. We find the county courthouse is new and in splendid and open condition. We find a new jail constructed, largely with federal monies, and the premises surrounding the building are well and beautifully kept. This is public property, that of the tax-payers and the board, which Mr. Murphy heads, has not only taken care but vastly improved it. This is quite commendable in these days of economic straits and general upheaval of conditions.

Thoroughly versed in local conditions and knowing the county as well as he does, Mr. Murphy is also experienced in the affairs of the Board—as they affect the public and also in relations to its internal affairs. Thoroughly conversant with the county's needs he also has thorough knowledge of the affairs of the Board, the science of administration and the success of application all of which he has attained both by ability and years of active experience.

This is a combination to be desired as it fits him unqualifiedly for the office and his re-election is sought for in accordance with these facts.

In order the Beat and county as a whole may benefit by this splendid administrative ability and by his years of experience, the voters are asked to consider his candidacy seriously and with such regard that will give the vote necessary to re-elect him.

A faithful servant of the public cannot be paid in dollars and cents. He is entitled to appreciation and to the thanks of the people he served and in no better and more expressive way can this be done than by re-electing one so deserving as Mr. Murphy at the polls on August 8.

Representative Of City To Washington To Hasten Action For Pier

Commissioner H. Grady Perkins left Monday night for Washington, D. C., in the interest of the project $80,000 pier and pavilion for Bay St. Louis from the federal government.

It will be remembered Commissioner Perkins, representing the city, recently journeyed to the federal offices in Atlanta, where he revived the subject, and conferred with governor engineers and executive officials to his satisfaction at the time being. Action from this point, however, has been delayed because of failure of officials papers at Atlanta and Washington to correspond and several kinks had to be straightened.

The City Council conferred with Senators Harrison and Bilbo by wire, telling them of their intention to send a representative to headquarters. The senators agreed and expressed willingness to do all in their power to co-operate and secure immediately the word that will release the necessary funds for the pier and pavilion.

Commissioner Perkins reached Washington Wednesday morning, but as this is written no word had been received. But the success of his quest is expected and if necessary he will remain in Washington until the matter will be definitely settled.

Our city fathers are determined in their quest and there is no doubt as to their ultimate success.

It is expected former District Gov. Haas, of Monroe, La., will be the principal guest speaker in addition to a speaker from the Coast.

A. G. FAVRE TO HEAD CO. RED CROSS DISASTER COMMITTEE

A. G. Favre, local clerk of the courts, has been appointed chairman of the Hancock county disaster relief committee, to work as a local unit in connection of the disaster relief services of the American National Red Cross service.

Several committees will be appointed to function over the county and each unit will have its own immediate chairman, with Mr. Favre as chief executive.

This work is in connection with general disaster over the country when, in time of emergency, local forces may be called upon to co-operate in helping the work of rescuing and aiding.

Maurice R. Reddy, assistant director of Disaster Relief Service, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., will be in Bay St. Louis Monday, June 12 and visit the Hancock County Chapter, of which George R. Rea is chairman. WORLD WAR NOT FUTILE.

MR. William C. Bullitt, United States Ambassador to France, speaking recently at the dedication of the American Legion monument in Neuilly Cemetery, differed with "Shallow critics who are saying that the World War was useless."

Mr. Bullitt, we believe, made a telling point when he said that if the result of the World War had been different, the world would be in a far worse condition today.

The World War may not have made the world safe for democracy and it certainly did not end all wars, but undoubtedly it prevented Germany and her allies from imposing severe peace terms and German domination upon the world.

Those who will take the time to study the peace negotiations between Russia and Germany, when the former power collapsed, during the great struggle, will find some inkling of the terms that Germany would have imposed upon the defeated nations to the west. We suspect that a German victory would have developed a world-wide regimentation along lines that might have prevented the continued existence of democratic ideals. In avoiding such a catastrophe, one may assume that the World War was of great service to the general cause of humanity.

THE FLAG ON HIGH.

WELL, patriots, take it easy! The United States flag now flies in the air, one foot higher than the red star emblem of Soviet Russia, at the New York World's Fair. Thus a burning issue is removed from discussion and the fate of democracy shifted to a more serious issue, such as taking care of the unemployed without calling upon the rich to pay too much taxes.

REVERSES ITSELF TWICE!

SOME kind of a record, we suppose, has been set by the Illinois Supreme Court in considering the minimum wage law for firemen. The International City Managers' Association reports that the law was declared constitutional at first, then on a rehearing, it was held unconstitutional and then, subsequently, on a second rehearing, the statute was declared constitutional.

ARMY OFFERS OPPORTUNITY.

WITH the United States Army planning to enlist more than 17,000 young men, for training as aviation mechanics, the opportunity is open to unemployed youngsters to make some money and learn a trade at the same time. Aviation is certain to grow and the young man who starts in on the ground floor will find ample room for whatever talents he may possess.

SOUTHERN PINE ASSOCIATION TO MEET ON COAST.

ARRANGEMENTS have been completed for the mid-summer meeting of the Southern Pine Association and Southern Lumbermen and Manufacturers, at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel, on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, on July 13 and 14th, according to H. C. Berckes, secretary-manager of the association.

The columns of this newspaper are open for temperate and intelligent discussions of public interest. However, we ask our writers to be brief as space is limited.

Advertising in The Sea Coast Echo is not the only factor in the career of a successful merchant of Bay St. Louis, but if you ask him, he will tell you it is one of the biggest.

Our Own Fable: "Dear Editor: You forgot to send me a bill for my subscription but you are not going to let my account get in arrears. Here's my check."

The State Tax Commission sent a letter to all Federal employees in this state following the Supreme Court decision holding they are liable for income taxes. The letter said: "Welcome to our family of taxpayers." And it didn't even get a dry grin from Federal employees. After all, there's something humorous about a tax bill.—Jackson News.

Silas Simmons, of Natchez, was elected president of the Mississippi Society of Public Accountants, a few days ago at the annual session of the Society. A. L. Evans, of Gulfport, was named vice-president; and R. L. Jackson, was chosen as secretary and treasurer. Three new board members were elected, namely: Fred Neely, of Greenwood, Bob Stanton of Jackson, and H. G. Osborn, of Greenwood.

According to the Department of Education the appraised value of the public school plants in Mississippi, white and colored, has increased from approximately 41,000,000 dollars in 1934 to approximately 55,000,000 dollars at the present time. Since 1936, there has been expended approximately seven and one-half million dollars on the school plants. In 1933, our per capita investment based on the number of pupils enrolled in the schools, was approximately $69.00. At the present time, the approximate per capita investment is $92.00, an increase of $23.00 per capita.

MISSISSIPPI LEGION TO LEAD PARADE.

THE executive committee of the American Legion met on June the fourth to discuss plans for the Mississippi Legion to lead the National American Legion Parade at Chicago. The State of Mississippi has the honor of being the only state in the United States who has ever won the honor of leading the parade for three consecutive years. The state department of the Legion is planning the finest display of floats to be arranged that Mississippi has ever had in the parade. During the past two years our state has received hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of free publicity from the legion parade, and this year the amount of publicity will far exceed that of former years, because Mississippi has succeeded in breaking all precedents, and will therefore focus all attention of the whole county on its delegation to the national convention.

TO VOTE ON REPEAL MORTMAIN LAW.

JUDGE O. B. Taylor, Director of the State Mortmain Committee, which committee is interested in the repeal of Section 269 and the amendment of Section 270 of the State Constitution, and which amendments will be voted on in the general election in November of this year, states that as the law now stands any bequest of real or personal property to any church, religious society, or church supported institution is prohibited. Judge Taylor further states in a question and answer pamphlet put out by the Mortmain committee that Mississippi is the only state in the union that now has complete statutory and constitutional prohibitions of this kind, and that thirty-seven states have no restrictions whatever. In the pamphlet issued by the Mortmain committee nineteen questions are asked and answered. Mr. Taylor will be glad to furnish one of these pamphlets to any one who will write him, just address Judge O. B. Taylor, Jackson, Mississippi.

RUSSIA A COQUETTE

THE failure of Soviet Russia to accept British proposals for joining the defensive bloc in Europe does not mean that Russia will not fight on the side of England and France if Germany and Italy begin the struggle.

It is a far cry from the British and French attitude of last September to the courting of Russia that has been underway for the last few weeks. It may take Russians a little while to understand the change that has occurred.

In fact, while one does not know exactly why the agreement is not satisfactory to the Russians, it was apparent last Fall that the British were flirting with the idea that, by giving Germany a free hand in the East, a war, if one came, would involve Germany and Russia.

This has not developed and instead of Germany facing Russia on the battle field, the chances are that the fighting will involve England and France before Russia.

TWO JUDGES ON TRIAL.

THE City of New York, last week, presented the unique spectacle of two judges on trial for corruption.

A federal judge was under charges, involving the deciding of cases for cash, and a State jurist was being tried upon bribery charges.

This is not reassuring to superficial thinkers who will instantly decide that the judiciary is corrupt. As a matter of fact, the vast majority of our judges, regardless of competency and philosophy, are, and have been, men of high character, integrity and fidelity to their conceptions of justice.

We do not think that anything is to be gained by denying that, once in a while, a judge goes crooked. The best thing to do is prosecute such scoundrels vigorously and have them properly punished. This will enhance the reputation of the judiciary among people who have sense.

WARNING: POLITICS AHEAD.

THE strategists are now laying their plans for the presidential campaign of 1940 and practically every public act and declaration takes on a political implication.

About a year from now, the air will be filled with alarms as members of our dominant political parties denounce each other. The country will be doomed "unless," etc. and etc.

It is just as well to warn people a full year ahead that every presidential campaign develops the same symptoms of the utter collapse of civilization. It is refreshing, however, to observe that, following elections, regardless of whether Democrats or Republicans win, the nation seems to live and progress.

AN AVIATOR PERISHES.

THOMAS H. Smith who apparently lost his life last week in an effort to fly a tiny monoplane across the Atlantic, did not undertake a foolhardy journey although it was one fraught with serious dangers.

As we understand it, he was attempting to demonstrate that ocean flying was not dependent upon airplanes, especially built for the job, but that the aerial age had developed stock planes that could make the trip.

While his friends refused to give him up as lost, after he failed to reach England and intimated that several weeks must elapse before his fate could be agreed upon, the chances of his safety are not encouraging.

SAVING-CONSCIOUS.

"AS a nation we have become saving-conscious," says Dr. Donald H. Davenport, of the Harvard School of Business.

Estimating that the cash savings of individual citizens were at a peak of more than $69,000,000, the professor pointed out that this is half again as large as the Federal debt and equal to the national income in a prosperous year.

Of $56,000,000,000, held in savings institutions, two-thirds is in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. One-half of the total is in New York alone.

Hollywood Notes.

IN "It Can't Happen Here" Lewis Stone has been assigned the part of Doremus Jessup, and Frank Morgan has been tentatively assigned to the part of Lawrence Rentoul.

"Coney Island" will be made this summer with Claude Rains playing the part of the wealthy New Yorker who loses his fortune and discovers Coney Island. Marie Wilson, Pat O'Brien and Humphrey Bogart will have parts.

Alan Mowbray will sail for Auckland soon, where he will write, produce and appear in a picture having a New Zealand background and also having the official stamp of that government. He will finish the current film, "Double-Dyed Deceiver" at Paramount before he sails.

Edward G. Robinson's next picture will be the story of a land grant swindler, entitled "The Prince of Impostors." The feminine lead will be played by Brenda Marshall who had her first good part in "Career Man."

Joe E. Brown and Martha Raye fill co-star in "One Thousand Dollars a Touchdown."

Westerns are getting bigger and better. Gene Autry's studio announces that his next picture "In Old Monterey," will have an unlimited budget.

A new production unit formed by Gene Lowrie announces as their four films for the coming season three old favorites and one modern. They are "Swiss Family Robinson," "The Deerslayer," "Tom Brown's School Days" and "African Intrigue."

Paulette Goddard had to cancel her reservation on a train to New York recently, because she had been assigned to the part of Miriam Aarons, an ex-chorus girl in "The Women."

Jean Arthur will replace Priscilla Lane in Louis Bromfield's "And It All Came True."

George Raft may be starred in a remake of Rupert Hughes' "Patent Leather Kid" which was produced some years ago with Richard Barthelmess in the lead.

Three pictures have been announced for James Stewart. After completing "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," he will co-star with Jean Arthur in "And It All Came True." That will be followed by "The Man from Montana," which was previously announced for Joel McCrea, and "The Canterville Ghost," by Oscar Wilde.

Barbara Stanwyck will probably star in "Air Raid" with Melvyn Douglas and in "The Amazing Marriage" which was originally purchased for Claudette Colbert.

Arthur Shields, one of the Abbey players of Dublin who has been signed for an important role in "Rums Along the Mohawk," is a brother to Barry Fitzgerald, another Abbey Player who has been appearing in the movies for several years.

For the first time in about ten years, Paul Muni will be seen in a picture, as he really looks. His face will not be changed at all for his role in "We Are Not Alone."

Bette Davis is asking for a non-costume picture. She thinks the public can digest just so many costume movies and then it gets fed up.

It was rumored that the rights to "Modern Cinderella" cost $50,000. The funny part of it now is that the story has been changed; they are also thinking of changing the title. Irene Dunne, who plays the part of a waitress, gets $150,000 for a picture, and Nydia Westman who also has a waitress part, is paid around $1,000 a week. The other waitresses in the picture receive from $8.25 to $50.

Judy Garland, who has just returned from a successful personal appearance tour, says it was a lot of fun although she lost four hats, was knocked down, and had her ankle twisted, due to enthusiastic fans.

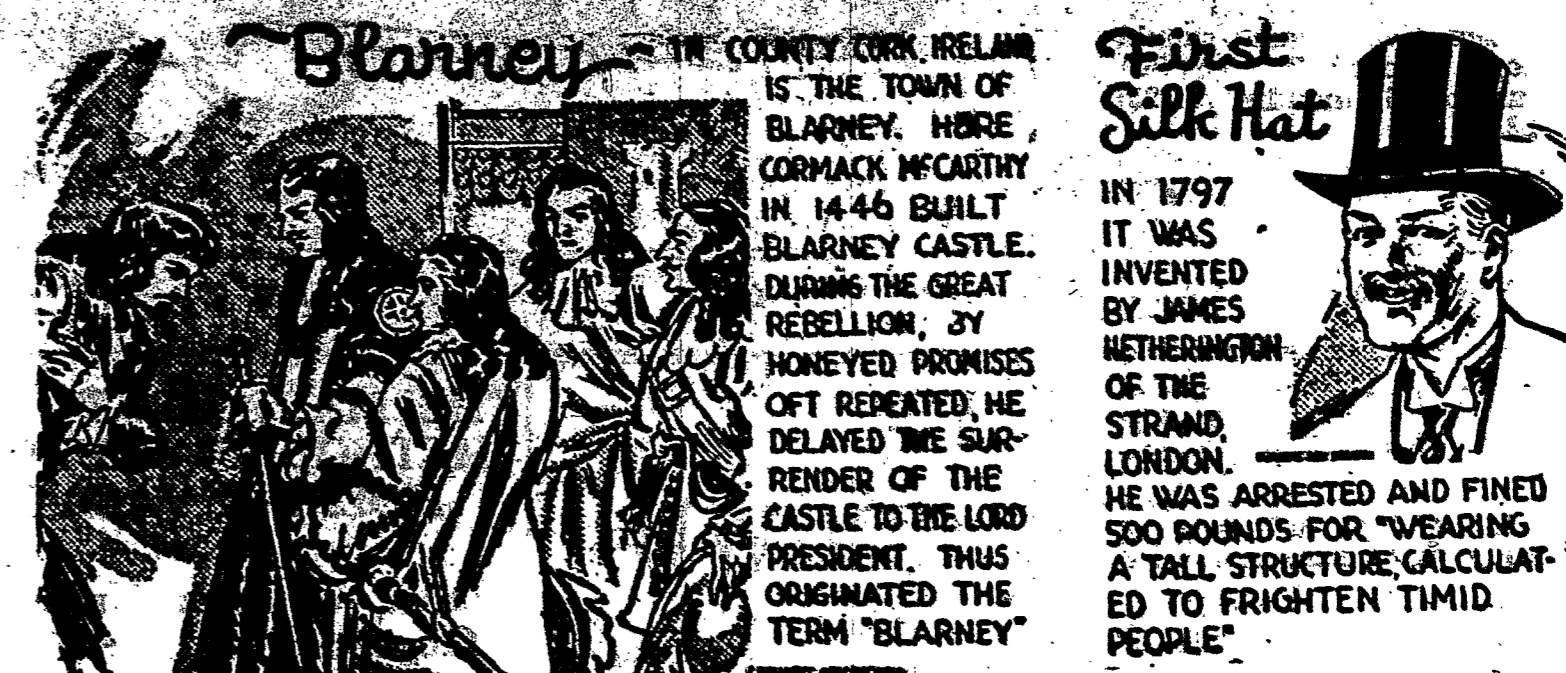

Hedy La Mar has fourteen kissing scenes in "Lady of the Tropics" with Robert Taylor. Sounds tropical!

Elizabeth Bergner will probably play the part of the German dancer who is stranded in England in "We Are Not Alone." Paul Muni plays the part of murdering his wife, Flora Robson. Miss Robson played the housekeeper in "Withering Heights."

GRADUATION DeLISLE CONSOLIDAT'D SCHOOL EVENT OF INTEREST

Rev. Father McKenna Delivers Address — Says Child's Pre-School Years Important.

On Tuesday evening, May 30, at 8 P. M. Graduation Exercises took place at DeLisle consolidated school. Fortunately the rainy weather cleared up on Tuesday evening. Before a large audience Rev. Father McKenna delivered with great brilliancy a most appropriate address on education, pointing out its necessity and value, and insisted that the first education should be given in the home, as soon as the child arrives at the use of reason. The pre-school years were very very important in the formation of the character and personality of the child, and during these years the foundations of character are laid either for good or evil. Some children can receive the rudiments of education at the tender age of 3, some others a little later, and practically all children are capable of receiving some form of training before the school age which is generally at the age of 6. This training of the child in the pre-school years should be done principally by the mother. It should be continued during the school years by both Father and Mother. Parents should begin early to give this necessary training, and should use both religion and good example. The child should be given, as early as possible, a knowledge of God, the Mother of God, and later on a knowledge of some of the Saints. Parents should use religious pictures in giving this instruction. Religious pictures should be displayed in a prominent place in the home. Through religious pictures the beauty, and goodness of God is more vividly impressed on the mind of the child. The child should be taught by the Parents to be obedient, respectful, kind and tolerant towards others more out of love for God than out of fear. Parents should watch out for the first manifestations of the passions, such as the passion of anger, and should gently train the child to control these passions, by holding up before the child the sweet example of the Child Jesus. The speaker then gave a definition of the word Education. He said it comes from the Latin word educere, meaning to draw out and develop, in accordance with Christian principles, the faculties and powers of the mind, the will, the heart, and the body of the individual. In other words, education is mental, moral, and physical. Three great agencies cooperate in giving education to our youth, the Home, the Church, and the School. Each one has a particular part to play, and no other agency can play that part. For instance, if the proper home education is not given, by the parents, it will never be given, because nobody, no organization, neither the Church nor the School can take the part of the parents. In the home the parents naturally teach their children by their example, because children naturally imitate their parents. Parents therefore, should realize the tremendous responsibilities they have towards their children, and should give good example in the home.

Secondly, the child should be trained by the church. The church gives a mental and a moral training that is indispensable to the child. Parents should see that their children regularly attend services and instructions in the church, not alone to receive this necessary part of their education, but also in order to satisfy their obligations or worship and adoration which they owe to their Creator.

Then comes the education given in the school. The school gives a knowledge of the arts and sciences, and prepares the child to earn its living in the world. Neither the home nor the church can take the place of the school. Parents should see that their children regularly attend school, and that they cooperate and work hard in obedience to the wishes of their teachers.

If a good foundation has already been laid in the heart and mind of the child by the home and the church, the work of the school, will be rendered an easier task. These three great agencies should therefore work together with one aim in view, namely the proper education of the child.

Professor Brown then thanked Father McKenna for his address and stated that he was in full accord with the views expressed on education. He then distributed the Diplomas to the six graduates: Virginia Beech, Ruth Niolet, Ellen Moran, Hilton Ladner, Norman Ladner, Haynie Dubuison, saying appropriate words of congratulations to each graduate. 30 other students of the school, which is one fourth of the total enrollment of the school, were presented by Professor Brown with certificates for perfect attendance at school during the year.

Another part of the program was an exceedingly interesting play, the Old Maid Convention, which gave an opportunity to Professor Brown to display his fine talents—his perfect acting surprised everybody present. Those who were in the play rendered their parts very effectively, and it is really very hard for the present writer to give special individual praise. The audience proved by its

DIMMING HEADLIGHTS

Are you a picklepuss in traffic? If you are one of those brainless things created somewhat after God's own image—although God is probably ashamed of you—who persistently refuses to dim headlights at night, then you are a picklepuss.

Even a louse has more sense than you have, for a louse, while thinking nothing of others, will try to protect himself to the best of his ability.

THEY CANNOT WIN.
(Jackson Daily News)

OUR Democratic primary in August is going to be a mental test for the voters of the commonwealth.

It will determine whether they possess good common sense or deserve to be classed as mostly non compose mentis.

We have, and have always had, in our state a wild-eyed element that furnishes easy prey for the rabble rousers and the demagogues.

This element, fortunate, is not always in the majority. Most generally it is in the minority.

To this original element has been added another class of voters who might aptly be described as "leaners." They are men and women who cherish the delusion that the world owes them a living and the cheap tricksters and charlatans in the political game can collect it for them.

Any scheme to get money out of the Federal or national treasury, regardless of how unjust or absurd it may be, meets with their cordial approval.

But the wild-eyed element and the leaners are not in the majority in Mississippi this time. We have had more than three years of the rule of reason in state government, an administration devoid of claptrap or demagoguery, and thinking voters want it to stay that way.

Therefore, there need be no apprehension concerning the result of the August primary. Truth will triumph, reason will prevail, decency will remain enthroned and the tricks of the rabble rousers will be exposed in due course of time.

MISSISSIPPI

Dear Mississippi, loveliest of all the lot.

Where fields of cotton blossom in fairest white, and greenest fields of grain brighten the spot.

That is my State, my gem which shines so bright!

Oh, surely thou'rt a happy spot in Southern land,

Where romance dwells in beauty and in charm;

Where the river flows, along the silver sand and cast the old oak trees their shadows warm.

Oh, mystic power, which unchains this my speech and seems to carry it ever and ever along.

What is our force whose mystery I cannot reach

But thrills my humble heart with laughter and song?

My Mississippi, those who come to visit say,

Held by Enchantment 'til the judgment day.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS.

TOMATOES contain three vitamins—A, B, and C—in better proportion than supplied by any other food and in such a state that their value is unchanged when cooked. As well as being beneficial to our health the tomato with its delicious flavor and cheerful color contributes generously to our meals.

Tomato Juice Cocktail

Season the required amount of tomato juice with salt, pepper, cayenne and onion juice. Pour into a refrigerator tray and freeze, stirring every half hour. Before serving, beat with a fork and put in cocktail glasses. Garnish with a sprig of parsley. Serve with the following appetizer.

Whip 1-3 cup of cream or evaporated milk, add 1 tablespoon horseradish, 1/4 apple, scraped. Drop a teaspoonful in a slice of dried beef. Roll up. Freeze in the refrigerator.

Tomato Hors d'Oeuvre

Slice tomatoes. Spread each slice with a mixture of mayonnaise and cream cheese. Sprinkle parsley and chopped onion over the top.

Tomatoes Stuffed With Corn

Peel 6 large tomatoes. Cut off the tops of the tomatoes and remove the centers. Brush the inside of each tomato with highly seasoned French dressing and allow to marinate 15 minutes. Meanwhile measure 3 cups of cooked corn cut from the cob. Add 2 tablespoons finely minced green pepper and 1/4 cup of mayonnaise. Fill the tomatoes with the corn mixture, top with a stuffed olive and serve in lettuce.

Porcupine Tomatoes

Peel firm ripe tomatoes and chill thoroughly. With a sharp pointed knife cut slits every quarter inch around the tomato. Cut thin slices of cucumber and insert. Cover with mayonnaise, seasoned with onion.

Tomato Farci

Remove a slice and hollow the center of 9 tomatoes. Combine 3-4 cup of sliced mushrooms, 3 tablespoons each of bread crumbs, of minced onion of chopped parsley, with 6 tablespoons of melted butter. 2 teaspoons of salt, 1/4 teaspoon of pepper and 5 teaspoons of anchovy paste. Heap the mixture in the center of each tomato, sprinkle with breadcrumbs and paprika. Bake in an oven 350 degrees until tender.
